COLUMBIA BIBLE COLLEGE
COLUMBIA, SOUTH CAROLINA

Dedication

ROBERT C. McQUILKIN, D.D.

PRESIDENT OF COLUMBIA BIBLE COLLEGE

*But in his duty prompt at every call,
He watched and wept, he prayed and felt for all;
And, as a bird each fond endearment tries
To tempt its new-fledged offspring to the skies,
He tried each art, reproved each dull delay,
Allured to brighter worlds, and led the way.*

*His ready smile a parent's warmth expressed;
Their welfare pleased him, and their cares distress:
To them his heart, his love, his griefs were given,
But all his serious thoughts had rest in heaven.*

OLIVER GOLDSMITH.

for the McQUILKINS

For twenty years of loving patience with all the family of C. B. C., in their tasks and problems of classroom maze or daily living; for the quiet talks and rousing inspiration of the many chapel hours; for the incentive of his example to make Christ's work fundamental; for the view of harvest fields and the call to reap their overflowing bounty; for his individuality which commands its separate place of love in our hearts; for his own devotion to the One Whom he commends to us—

MEN'S CAMPUS

Christian Training

For twenty-one years young men and women from many states and several foreign countries have been receiving the splendid training offered in preparation for Christian Service by Columbia Bible College. Their training has proved its value as they have gone out to be faithful witnesses to the truth of Christ Jesus. Through the years the members of the faculty have given themselves unceasingly to the task of presenting education centered in the Word of God. Behind the scenes, members of the staff have contributed largely to the progress and success of the carefully organized curriculum. School life in all its phases has been characterized by the continual fulfillment of the college motto, "To know Him and to make Him known."

GRADUATE SCHOOL

The Graduate School may have the smallest enrollment of all the classes in Columbia Bible College, but it is by no means the least important! If this statement is doubted, just look over its membership. Please note the Ph.D. we have in our midst, the up-and-coming musician, already successful missionaries, ministers, and school teachers who are seeking further training, besides one who is the pride and joy of a famous hospital. In addition to our studies, we have fun at our picnics and monthly supper-meetings.

"Son of man, hear what I say unto thee; . . . and thou shalt speak my words unto them." Each member of the class is planning to do full-time work for the Lord, either on the foreign field, or in the homeland.

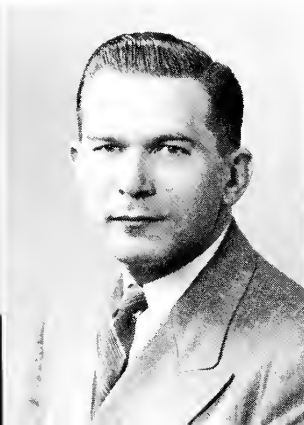

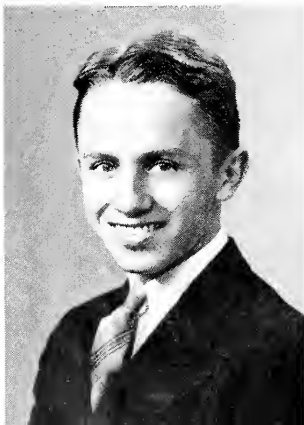

We believe the future has much in store for the Graduate School. We are looking forward to growth in number, expansion in courses, and other advancements which shall bring to future graduates added values.

One of us, very new, very verdant, from the edge of the taxi seat was rewarded with the first glimpse of C. B. C. On tree-lined Hampton against the blue southern sky appeared two finial-capped towers, strong, sturdy, sheltering.

. . . Four years flew by, packed with an unbelievable number of blessings. We went to classes, feeling that our feet trod holy ground; enjoyed unforgettable fellowship; made lasting friendships; played and laughed at social events; gave chapel messages; and surprisingly soon, no longer new, no longer verdant, walked down the chapel aisles under mortarboards.

C. B. C. has given us a priceless heritage in learning of Him. Now for you who follow, we have this farewell message, suggested by that first glimpse of towers shining in the sun, and repeatedly proved: "The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." We leave the sheltering towers of C. B. C., but that tower is ours, unchangeable, ever-present.

Could it be that some capricious fairy waved her magic wand and transformed the fifty-six invading freshmen and thirty-five roving sophomores into this group of twenty-four persevering juniors?

Some of our members have vanished to serve the country's colors, while others have reappeared in other schools and duties. You might ask, "Are you downhearted?" Some have said we might well be. Yes, the seniors "pulled it over on us" the morning of September 22. We also had to congratulate our opposing team for the first time at the annual football classic, but we still maintain, "No! No! No!" We offer for evidence The 1944 Final and "one more year to go!"

Then came September, 1944! Forty-five travelers remained in coaches that have been filled with spiritual awakening and physical refreshing; coaches of picnics, parties, Spring Conference, and general good times!

In week-day Bible clubs and Sunday School classes, in hospital visitation and tract distribution, in street meetings and jail services, we tell to others the glorious news that Jesus saves all who come to Him. Several of the young men have had opportunities for serving as pastors of rural churches near Columbia, and many of them have cooperated with chaplains in meetings for service men at Fort Jackson and the U. S. O. centers. "Tidings of peace" are broadcast to all Columbia in a daily radio program.

SERVICE

The young women give forth the Word of life in numerous classes for children, nurses, and women in all sections of the city.

In all the varied forms of Christian service there is afforded a daily opportunity to work out in vital experience the lessons of classroom and study hours. Likewise, through this vital part of the curriculum students gain a conception of what can be done any time, anywhere, by being "instant in season and out of season."

Student Foreign Missions Fellowship is a growing army of student missionary volunteers receiving their basic training in the schools and colleges of the United States, preparing to go overseas on an errand of peace and goodwill, to take the Gospel message to those who have not yet heard whether there is a Christ or a Bible.

Daily newspapers somehow fail to report the victories being won by the powerful forces under God on the world mission fronts.

On the "home front," defenders wage the battle "by prayer," meeting in local chapters to review the needs on the field, to consider the possibilities of advance, and to consult with the Captain of the Lord's Army concerning His plans for the present and the future.

Out on the "firing lines," alumni members of the Bible College and other F. M. F. Chapters wield the Sword, and aggressively advance into the enemy's territory to occupy it for Christ.

Various field prayer groups here at home are manning the fields with reinforcements from their own ranks and presenting the challenge to others.

Unreached fields call those who will venture in faith and courage to take the Gospel to tribes and nations hidden away, unoccupied for Christ.

There is no neutral territory in this spiritual warfare, but one day the last tribe will be reached, and then shall the Captain of the Lord's host be the final Victor. His empire shall be "where'er the sun doth its successive journeys run."

Highlights in this year's campaign have been the Southeastern Regional Conference, our Chapter in command; the deputations mapped out by the vice-president; and the numerous speakers and visitors who have left with us military information that will aid us in the final victory for Christ.

Alumni Association, it binds the former students closer to the present ones in the ever-widening circle of the Bible College family. The exchange of this publication with other colleges for copies of their papers establishes a vital contact with them. In these and many other ways, the planning of the pages of the CeBeCean gives its staff a varied experience in journalism and cooperative writing.

Standing: TODD, SHEPPERSON, DILLON, WELLS, ROBBINS, PRIESTLEY, HAWKINS, BALL, LEBER, MOORE, BECKER, RUPP, HARRIS • Seated: KANTZER, LUDEKING

Culture and civics sound the keynote for the character-building program of the Philologist Literary Society.

Culture is the intangible complement to Christian character which is the outgrowth partially of a literary-centered program of recreational activity. Authors and their compositions claim the attention of the members of the society at several meetings during the year.

Civics takes the floor as the president raps the gavel calling the bi-monthly meeting to order. Leadership reveals itself, as national, local, and ecclesiastical affairs are discussed in senatorial fashion.

This character-centered program of the Literary Society provides educational and recreational activities for the men of our college which will develop in them valuable traits of Christian character.

To know the best literature, and to sharpen the appetite of the individual for such, is the abiding hope of achievement of the Philobiblonian Literary Society.

The society seeks to establish its aim upon a working basis by having each member take part in at least one meeting during the semester. Two meetings a month are held, one of which is a business meeting for the purpose of improving the members' knowledge of parliamentary procedure. The other is a program of poetry, stories, general essays and music.

It is well that we who serve the One who made all beauty should have a true understanding of the refinements of life. We would be fully equipped to meet the warfare of life, and so we clothe ourselves with literary, as well as physical and intellectual, armor.

"Play the second soprano through, please," or "All the low altos this time—just a shade softer." Soon all the hard places are smoothed out and the words are mastered. Then comes, "Now, let's sing it all the way through."

There are a few short rehearsals and the repeated discussion, "White blouses and dark skirts look so nice from the audience—," before the final public rendition. White blouses win, and soon the message in song floats out supported by earnest prayer for its blessing. The thrill of believing the Lord has used the melody of their voices more than repays the members for the expended time and effort.

FRIDAY NIGHT

Why study when you can socialize? . . . A poster goes up. . . . Then Friday comes and everyone drops his work to take a stroll along a path as it winds its way around boulders, under moss-covered trees, and on up the river to beautiful spots. Possibly records are being played in the sun parlor . . . or are they playing "Pick Up Sticks"?

Maybe the route taken will lead to a festooned dormitory—sign-posts, decorations, games, food, devotions, and a walk afterwards. Then—back to studying the next day. Time wasted? Why, no!

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Address-O-Girls

"Money in purse will always be in fashion." Countless means of filling the purse were employed this year at C. B. C. Some found it quite "fashionable" to flip news into the air and hear it flop on the porch. Not a few tickled typewriters to ward off pecuniary difficulties. Many seasoned their delight by steam-bathing culinary ware, others by placing it, still others by selling it for only ten cents per item. Saying, "Oh, you look nice in that," brought good wages to some, while others profited by "officiating." Sorry, but we had no bootblacks!

SPORTS

Touchdowns—baskets—strikes—holes in one—sets of tennis to our credit, C. B. C. has been running up the scores this year in more fields than ever.

They deserve a little mentioning and a loud acclaim, those teams of ours, including Dr. Lindsell and Professor Sells,

CONFERENCES AND SUMMER SCHOOL

Ben Lippen has one of the most beautiful locations in North Carolina. High up in the Blue Ridge mountains, it is very near to Smoky Mountain National Park, and to Mount Mitchell, highest peak east of the Rockies.

Guests live in the spacious Conference Inn, of which a picture is shown above. Meetings are held in Huston Hall, an auditorium seating twelve hundred people.

Ben Lippen is located only five miles from Asheville, the nearest railroad station. A bus line comes from the city to the conference grounds.

BIBLE AND CHRISTIAN LIFE CONFERENCE

August 12 to 20

In the summer of 1943 when it was feared that the war might interfere with the Ben Lippen conferences, God gave the greatest year in enrollment and in spiritual blessing. The closing Bible and Christian Life Conference had an enrollment of 405, as against 333 for the preceding year. In the missionary circles there was a total of 240 young people offering themselves for service for the foreign mission fields.

Ben Lippen is the place where many young people, as well as older people, have met the Lord Jesus Christ face to face, and where many have had a call to service. The motto, "To know Him and to make Him known," has been blessedly carried out.

The All-Round Every Week CHRISTIAN JOURNAL

The busy Sunday school teacher who uses The Sunday School Times knows that every week new lesson study material will be delivered right to his home. And that there are ten departments from which to choose in each issue, with the leading lesson exposition by H. A. Ironsde. More than enough material to give plenty of reserve power in teaching the class.

Every earnest Christian worker who reads the Times knows that in it he will find the answer to many a puzzling problem in its "Notes on Open Letters" and its special articles dealing with interesting phases of Bible study and truth.

The alert Christian men and women who read the Times know that this is an easy way to keep up with religious news of the world. About once a month Ernest Gordon unearths unusual bits of news in his World Survey of Religious Life and Thought. To do this, Mr. Gordon reads some hundreds of books and periodicals in a year, in several different languages.

Christian people everywhere, in all walks of life, who read the Times know that in addition to these many regular features there are special series of articles throwing light on Bible prophecy, doctrine, great Christian conflicts, and other subjects vital to Christian thinking today.

Why don't you give this eighty-five-year-old Christian journal a good six months' trial—starting right now?
